Answer

MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (SMT. KANTI SINGH)

(a) to (h): The Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) conducts the All India Engineering / Architecture Entrance Examination (AIEEE) . The CBSE has informed that reservation in Central Government Institutions has been made as per rules of Central Government. The state where candidates appear for 10+2 class is taken into account as State Code of eligibility, which is being considered as State Code of Domicile. There is no domicile certificates requirement as far as the admission for the seats reserved or a particular state are concerned. Therefore, Mark Sheet for qualifying exam is required for verification of state code of eligibility, which decides their domicile status. Though representations have been received, there is no change in the policy by CBSE on the matter of deciding State Code of Domicile.
